White Sox host Midget 'A' Provincials

Wainwright goes undefeated in quest for gold

Elk Point White Sox played host to the World Series of Alberta's Midget 'A' baseball this weekend, with seven teams from across the province coming to town for the big show.

Official opening ceremonies Friday night saw the teams introduced by Calvin

Leckie as they lined up around the baselines. Mayor Ed Buck welcomed the visitors, and announced that Town Council recently allocated $60,000 for the construction of another regulation-size diamond, as well as funds for installation of electrical service to the nearby campground. He also paid tribute to one of Elk Point's most dedicated volunteers, a man devoted to the advancement and promotion of minor ball and minor hockey in the community, Doug Bassett. Bassett was slated to receive a special community service award at the Canada Day celebrations, but was unable to attend because he was, not surprisingly, busy at a provincial ball round robin playdown.

Lynn Croft of Baseball Alberta thanked Elk Point for hosting the Provincial finals, and thanked all the volunteers involved. "I hope your year has been a positive and exciting experience," she told the players as she wished everyone a great tournament.

Young Brendan Bailey, who had performed at Klondike Days only the day before, led the crowd in "O Canada," before longtime minor ball supporter Phil Sheplaw made the ceremonial first pitch to Mayor Ed Buck.

Wainwright Midgets, who had a decisive win over the White Sox immediately following the opening ceremonies, lambasted Fort Saskatchewan Red Sox 17-4 in four and a half innings Sunday afternoon, scoring eight runs in one single inning, to take home the gold medals.

Saddle Slickers Light Horse Club shows skills at annual achievement day

Elk Point Saddle Slickers hosted their Light Horse Achievement Day on Tuesday, July 17 at the C. G. Baker Memorial Arena.

Five members of the club put their horses through their paces for judge Cathy Laycock, competing in judging, grooming, showmanship, English equitation and pleasure, western equitation and pleasure, a rider switch pleasure class, a partner toilet paper command class, reining, trail, barrels and poles.

Riders were judged on the Danish system, with ratings of excellent, good and fair awarded to each rider, and prizes for everyone.

The two remaining members of the club served as show personnel, Jamie Schnurer in the Mistress of Ceremonies role and Chelsea Schnurer as ring steward. Joyce Larson judged the project books.

The Saddle Slickers recently took part in the 4-H Expo in Lloydminster, where a foursome made up of Danielle Schnurer, Kim Lebold, Meggan Parker and Chelsea Schnurer placed second in the Club Ride, doing reining patterns to music, against tough competition. They also competed in a number of other events at the two day show of riders from across the region.

'I came amongst ye and ye took me in'

By Deanna Easthope
FCSS Director

On my travels this summer, I picked up a book by Will Millar titled, "Will Millar's Irish Joke Book." The book is the "Collectors Edition... 30 Years of this Irish Rover's.. Jokes, Stories, Cartoons, Photos" I am enjoying reading it. Anyway, there is one story about Henry Ford I found interesting. The title is, "I Came Amongst Ye and Ye Took Me In."

Henry Ford, the man who put America on wheels, was the grandson of an immigrant from Cork who settled the wilderness near Dearborn, Michigan in the Famine years, working a small farm.

After he made his fortune in America, Henry returned to Cork for a visit and was greeted by the local business leaders. They put the arm on him for a donation toward the construction of a hospital they were building.

Henry gave them a cheque for £5000, and the business leaders thanked him profusely. Next day the Cork Examiner had in banner headlines, "Henry Ford Donated £50,000 Towards New Hospital". Henry reads this and is a little put out.

Next morning bright and early the business delegation is back to see Henry to apologize. Charley O'Sullivan, the spokesman, is all upset, he tells Henry, about the terrible mistake, and promises that a correction will be in the next day's paper, saying Henry only donated £5000, not £50,000 as reported.

Knowing when he was being conned, old Henry says, "All right, how much is it going to cost to finish this church?" On being told that it would take all of £50,000, he asked for his £5000 cheque back and wrote out another one for the £50,000.

Before handing over the cheque, he tells Mr. O'Sullivan, "There's just one stipulation before I hand over the cheque."

"Anything you say, squire," says O'Sullivan.

"I want," says Henry, "a plaque installed over the entrance to the hospital."

"No trouble at all," says O'Sullivan.

"And on that plaque," says Henry, "I want inscribed, 'I Came Amongst Ye and Ye Took Me In'."

Now isn't that a neat story? Double meaning and appropriately given to fundraising for hospital as well as the service provided within. ...And to think it all started because the paper made a mistake. Say, Vicki, look at the influence you could have in fundraising in Elk Point!

■ Calling all quilters!

Quilts sought for Fair display

Attention all quilters, as well as those who have a treasured antique or vintage quilt in their possession: Elk Point Agricultural Society Fair Board needs you!

Once again this year, a quilt show will be an integral part of the Elk Point Fair, and Verona Lea Flanders of the Fair's organizing committee is hoping it will be even bigger and better than last year. A total of 55 hand-crafted quilts, ranging from two over a century old to a newly completed art project created by a home-schooled student, decked the A. G. Ross Arena for last year's fair, but Mrs. Flanders is sure there are many more quilts out there worthy of display.

If you have a quilt you would be willing to put on display at the August 11 and 12 Fair, please call Verona Lea at 724-2269.

Entries for the Fair itself are also being sought for over 600 categories. Categories for baking, sewing, fresh fruit, photography, canning, house plants, vegetables, flowers, knitting, crochet and weaving, arts, crafts and hobbies, grains and hay, junior fair, creative writing and the seniors section offer numerous opportunities to win ribbons and cash, wherever your special talents lie.

Fair books, entry forms and entry tags are available at the Elk

Point Review, 4809 - 50 Ave., Elk Point, and at the Elk Point Tourist Information Centre, Highway 41 and 50th Avenue.

Entries will be accepted at the A. G. Ross Arena from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Saturday, August 11, with the fair open for public viewing on Sunday, August 12 from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., with prizes awarded Sunday at 6 p.m.

Plan now to be part of Elk Point Fair 2001!

Lioness name Trip of the Month winners

Elk Point Lioness Club reports that two lucky entrants have won vacations in their monthly Trip of the Month Club draws.

On June 20, John Hutton's name was drawn to win the trip to the Okanagan Valley of BC, including four nights hotel and a rental car for a self-drive tour. Gary Pollard and Willie Lesyk each won a $100 cash prize.

On July 18, Bill and Helen Marcenik won a six day bus tour of Harrison Hot Springs and the Okanagan Valley, while Else Sanders and Joan Bauman each won $100 cash. The next draw will be held August 15.

Town Council notes

Among the items on Elk Point Town Council's July agenda were garbage disposal fees. The amount charged to in-town residents for their weekly garbage pickup will rise in the near future to cover the increased costs, once the cost of hauling waste is determined. A proposal listing fees for disposal of household appliances, furniture and batteries has been forwarded to the County but did not meet with approval from County Council, who do not want their residents subjected the fees. Council decided not to budge on the issue, noting that it is costly to dispose of such items as refrigerators and freezers, due to the hazardous nature of the material in their cooling systems. The fees will be reviewed in a year's time.

Town manager Myron Goyan is currently drafting terms of reference for operation of the new transfer station, which is scheduled for completion later this month.

The Town will join with the Town of St. Paul and the County of St. Paul in an application for a 2000 Sponsorship grant, which will go toward upgrading recreational facilities in all three municipalities. Elk Point's portion of the grant will go toward ball diamonds and electrical services for the recreation park campground.

Child injured in ATV collision

On July 2 at approximately 7 p.m., Elk Point RCMP responded to an injury motor vehicle collision at Frog Lake, involving a pickup truck and an ATV (trike). The investigation determined that the ATV had been following the pickup too closely and collided with it when the pickup turned into a driveway. Both the male operator and a two year old child were thrown off the ATV after the collision and neither of the two were wearing helmets.

The child was taken to Elk Point Health Centre by ambulance suffering a broken collarbone and head injuries. He was transferred by STARS to the University of Alberta Hospital in Edmonton for further observation. The male operator, father of the child, received only minor bruises to his legs.

Elk Point RCMP are continuing their investigation and charges may be pending under the Motor Vehicle Administration Act and the Off-Highway Vehicle Act. Neither alcohol nor the weather was a factor in the collision.

■ Nutrition notes

Hydration important in summer heat

By Linda Fox RD
Elk Point Health Centre

Drinking enough water and other hydrating fluids maximizes enjoyment of summer activities.

Water transports nutrients to cells and waste products away from cells. It helps us control our body temperature and is involved in energy production.

Dehydration can be dangerous and impairs athletic performance. With dehydration the heart rate increases, coordination decreases and cramps and nausea may occur. Most dangerous of all, the body cannot regulate temperature as effectively. Severe dehydration can lead to death. Signs of dehydration include headache, tiredness or dizzy spells.

How much fluid is enough? Most people require 1.5 to 2 litres hydrating fluids daily. This includes water, milk, juice, sports drinks, soup, decaffeinated pop, decaffeinated coffee and tea. When active, drink extra hydrating fluids. Half an hour before the activity, drink 250 - 400 ml (1 - 2 cups); drink 90 - 250 ml (1/2 cup - 1 cup) every 15 minutes during activity and after the activity, drink at least 500 ml (2 cups) of hydrating fluids.

Drinking fluids during activity can help you stay hydrated throughout the activity. Children dehydrate faster than adults do, so it is important to encourage them to drink often. Drink more fluids than you feel thirsty for. A person who has lost 3 - 4 litres of fluid as sweat can satisfy thirst by consuming only 0.5 litre of fluid!

Proper hydration is especially important in hot weather. So whether you are playing golf, tennis, hiking or in-line skating, carry a water bottle with you. Freeze fluid the night before if you want it to be cold longer.

For more information, contact Linda Fox, Registered Dietitian, Elk Point Health Centre, at 724-3847.

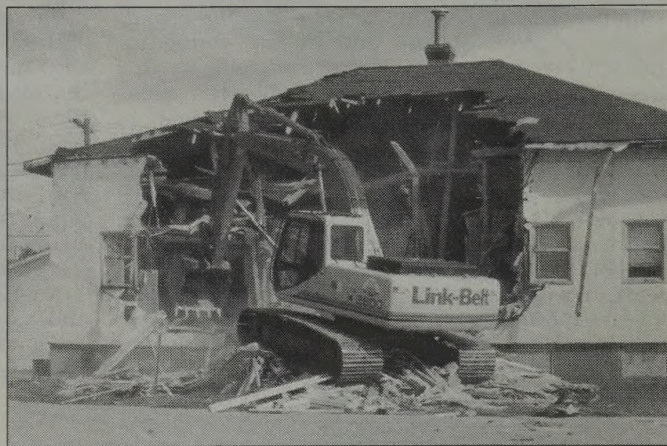

■ Education History

Early school bites the dust

A piece of Elk Point's education history came crashing to the ground last week, as the Town of Elk Point demolished the building behind the Town Office.

The building, which has since served as the town office, the police barracks and courthouse, and housed at various times the Bicentennial office, the local Scouting Association, the TOPS Club, a teen drop-in centre and an oilfield safety company, started out as the first school to be located in the rapidly growing hamlet of Elk Point.

The two-room Elk Point Public School opened in January, 1929, with Mrs. K. Fenton teaching Grades 1 to 5 and Mrs. L. Sumpton teaching Grades 6 to 10. A year later, the district's first school, which had been built two miles east and a half mile south of town in 1911, was moved into Elk Point and placed east of the new school, where it still remains today, complete with the extra room added in the early 1930s, now housing the United Church Rummage Store. A one-room junior high school was built between the two in 1941, the three buildings serving the district's students until 1949, when a new high school was built on 52 Avenue, between 50 and 51 Streets. The first phase of Elk Point's current Elementary School was built in 1957, which ended student occupancy of the original school and its neighboring structures.

DEMOLITION DAY - A gigantic crane tore into Elk Point's first town school building last Wednesday, reducing it to rubble.

The structure has not been occupied for several years, and was in need of costly repairs. Town Council agreed that demolition of the structure would be a more workable solution, but found bids for this were also costly. The Town's Public Works department was directed to hire the necessary machinery and supervise the demolition and hauling of the resulting debris to the landfill.

The giant crane took its first bite of the building early Wednesday, and by noon, only a massive heap of debris remained of what was once the home-away-from-home for two generations of Elk Point children.

ELK POINT SCHOOLS OF THE 1950S - included the building just demolished, at left, and the building which now houses the Rummage Store, far right.

Pioneer school designated as historically significant

By Olga Ockerman
Ferguson Flats Association

The Ferguson Flats Association has undertaken a major project in the community in preserving the old Fern Chapel School. This log building, built in 1913 by the early settlers, still stands on its original site. It was used as a school and community center until 1950 when the new Ferguson Flats School was built. It is the intention of the members to restore this site as a tribute to the pioneers and to interpret the history of rural education in the area.

Official word has been received from the Alberta Historical Resources Foundation that it recognizes this site as being one of important historical significance. A matching grant was approved to assist with the restoration. It was noted that very few such school buildings remain in Alberta and much encouragement was given to go ahead with our plans.

Although the building has deteriorated through the years, the basic structure is still solid enough to be restored. Some work has already been done by volunteers and a Fern Chapel Restoration Fund has been established. Some members have given generous donations and all contributions are welcome and will be acknowledged.

Even as it stands today, the Fern Chapel School attracts visitors who stop to view and photograph the building and reminisce about the education provided in these little country schools. With a lot of hard work and determination to restore this building, it will hopefully remain as a historical landmark in the area for many more years.

FERN CHAPEL SCHOOL was built in 1913 by early settlers.

What's new at Fort George and Buckingham House?

By Mary Easthope

Fort George and Buckingham
House Interpretive Centre

The month of July is in full swing and there are so many fun and exciting things happening at the Forts. Day camps are running Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:00 to 4:00 in the afternoon. Tuesdays are for ages 6 to 8 and Thursdays are for 9 to 12. There is a theme for each week. For the week of July 17 and 19, the theme was "Nature and People", and for the week of July 24 and 26 the theme is "Native Way Of Life".

The staff is in charge of the day camps and they provide the children with games, crafts, role playing and information on what life was like in the days of the fur trade. We have had about 10 children in total for our day camps and we are always welcoming anyone who would like to join us for an afternoon of fun.

On July 21 we had a special event at Ross Lake. Parks Day is when we talk about the artifacts from the gallery; we then do a short skit demonstrating the life of the fur traders. We also allow the people a chance to start fires with real flint. For the rest of the evening we play games and listen to the wonderful music that will be provided.

We are also doing Sunday Fun Days every Sunday at the Forts. Each Sunday has a different theme. Last Sunday we had bannock making and a variety of crafts, and this coming Sunday we will be doing a music event which everyone is invited to participate in. This will be a preview to our Forts des Prairies Jamboree coming up August 26.

The visitor statistics are doing really well for the month of July. We have had a lot of people from other countries. We haven't had very many local people so if you need refreshing on your history of the forts, or just want to come and visit, we will enjoy your company.

The staff has seen many different kinds of animals around which are always a wonderful sight. There are also some endangered plants at the Forts, the tiger lily and the lady's slipper. Both of these flowers don't last very long, so their season is almost over.

If you have any information about the fort or questions on any other information please phone us at 724-2611.
